

Nisqually Vaccinations: Have you been vaccinated yet?

The only way for our community to slowly re-open and resume some of our 'normal' activities, is for enough people to be vaccinated. As we've seen over time throughout history, vaccinations and herd immunity are a huge way of protecting those around us. We may think that since we don't have many cases of COVID-19 on the reservation at this moment - that we're close to herd immunity.

But the fact is, we have a long way to go. We need more people to be vaccinated.

Scientists estimate that for herd immunity.
