NISQUALLY TRIBAL CODE
TITLE 50 – YOUTH
CHAPTER I - NISQUALLY YOUTH CODE

50.01 PURPOSE AND CONSTRUCTION

50.01.01 Purpose

The Nisqually Indian Tribe recognizes that its children are its most important resource and their welfare is of paramount concern to the Nisqually Indian Community. It is essential that the young Indian people of the Nisqually Indian Community receive care and guidance in their own homes, whenever possible, and that their identity and pride as Native Americans always be protected and preserved. Therefore, this Chapter shall be interpreted and understood to accomplish the following tribal objectives:

- (a) To provide for the care, protection and development of Nisqually children;
- (b) To ensure that Nisqually children receive assistance and guidance in their own homes whenever possible and are separated from their parents only when necessary for the children's protection;
- (c) To discourage delinquent acts and to protect the Tribe's interest by providing supervision, care and rehabilitation;
- (d) To provide a simple procedure for addressing and resolving conflict involving Indian children that is reflective of tribal traditions as well as the prevailing community standards and which affords all affected persons a fair and impartial hearing consistent with individual rights; and,
- (e) To ensure that off-reservation courts will be able to return Nisqually children to the Tribe for care and guidance.

50.01.02 Construction

This Chapter is exempted from the rule of strict construction. It shall be read and understood in a manner that gives full effect to the purposes stated in subsection 50.01.01.

HISTORICAL AND STATUTORY NOTES

50.01.03 Application of Tribal Law or Custom

Whenever there is uncertainty or a question as to the interpretation of certain provisions of this Chapter, tribal law or custom shall be controlling, and where appropriate, may be based on the written or oral testimony of a qualified tribal elder, tribal historian or other tribal representative.

50.01.04 Sovereign Immunity

The sovereign immunity of the Nisqually Indian Tribe shall in no manner be waived by this Chapter. The employees, appointees, and volunteers of the Tribe are cloaked with the sovereign immunity of the Tribe and are not liable for the inability or failure to provide services to any person.

50.01.05 Severability

If any provision or application of this Chapter is determined by review to be invalid, such determination does not render such provision inapplicable to other persons or other circumstances nor invalidate any other provisions of this Chapter.

Child abuse or neglect reports are confidential, including the identity of the reporter. This confidentiality shall not be interpreted to hamper cooperation between agencies which is necessary to properly investigate child abuse and neglect. Where there is a conflict between confidentiality and the need for communication between agencies and departments, protection of the child shall be the overriding consideration.

- (a) NCFS shall document all reports of abuse or neglect received and shall record the screening decision that was made. Following investigation, NCFS shall document whether the report was determined to be founded or unfounded.
- (b) Examinations and interviews of a child suspected of having been subject to abuse or neglect shall be conducted under such circumstances and with such safeguards as are designed to minimize additional trauma to the child. It shall be the responsibility of the departments involved in the investigation and/or prosecution of the alleged offenses to coordinate their interviews and limit intrusive examinations with respect to the child.
- (c) Photographs, X-rays, medical examinations, psychological examinations, drug testing, interviews and forensic interviews of a child alleged to have been subject to abuse or neglect shall be allowed without parental consent if NCFS or law enforcement officials have reason to believe the child has been subject to abuse or neglect. These records may include but are not limited to health and medical records, school attendance records, disciplinary records, and other behavioral information that may be relevant to a dependency case. The Court may not continue a preliminary inquiry solely to allow a party to obtain legal representation; however, a party who appears at a preliminary inquiry without legal representation does not waive his or her right to appeal any procedural or substantive error made at the preliminary inquiry by failing to make objections during the inquiry, if legal representation is obtained and written objections are made before the start of the fact-finding hearing.

- (d) The Court may make any orders necessary for the protection and well-being of the child and the family. Such orders may include but are not limited to: evaluation and treatment (including involuntary residential treatment) of substance abuse, mental illness, and emotional disturbance; parenting classes; mandatory school attendance; mediation; visitation orders; restraining orders; and other services or activities for the benefit of the child and his or her family. The Court may make a particular placement conditional on compliance with any of the above orders.
- (e) The Court may also order restitution in any reasonable amount for acts of the child resulting in damage or injury to any individual or the Nisqually Tribe and/or order the child to perform community service appropriate to the needs or abilities of the child.
- (f) When a petition is based on a youth's truancy, or new findings are made in a case that a youth is truant, the Court may impose any sanction or discipline authorized by the Nisqually Attendance Ordinance.

- (g) Orders for visitation shall specifically state frequency, duration, persons with whom visitation is allowed, and whether visits are to be supervised and if so, by whom.

50.16.06 Review Hearings

- (a) The Court shall conduct a hearing to review its Family Preservation Plan at least once every six months, or earlier upon motion of any party or upon the Court's own motion. If the child has been placed out of the home, the hearing shall be within six months of the date of initial placement. The first review hearing shall be scheduled by the Court at the Dispositional Hearing. Every review hearing thereafter shall be scheduled at the previous hearing.
- (b) The purpose of the hearing shall be to review the progress of the parties and determine whether court supervision should continue.
- (c) At the hearing the Court shall review whether the parties are complying with the Plan and shall consider whether modification of the order is necessary to protect the child and strengthen the child's family. The Court shall determine whether NCFS is making reasonable efforts to reunify the family. If the child has been placed out of the home, the Court shall determine whether reasonable efforts have been made to return the child to the home of his or her parent(s) or guardian and whether out of home placement remains necessary
- (d) No later than five days before a review hearing, NCFS, through the Tribe's Presenting Officer, shall file a Case Management Report and deliver copies of the report to all parties. The Report shall contain detailed information about the parties' compliance, the child's safety and wellbeing, new services that may be recommended for any party, and efforts NCFS has made to provide services to reunify the family. Supporting documentation shall be attached to the report whenever possible.

50.17 PERMANENCY PLANNING

50.17.01 Permanency Planning

- (a) If a child has been determined to be in need of care, NCFS shall form a plan for permanency of the child and shall make that plan known to the parents and the court. Court management reports filed by the NCFS caseworker shall inform the parents and the court of the permanency plan throughout the course of the case and shall indicate any proposed changes to the plan. At review hearings, the Court shall make findings as to whether the parties are complying with the family preservation plan and whether NCFS has made reasonable efforts to reunify the family. At any review hearing, the Court may make findings that the current plan for permanency is no longer in a child's best interest and that a different plan is more appropriate. The primary consideration when determining the permanency plan will be the best interest of the child. If any party disagrees with the permanency plan recommended by NCFS or ordered by the Court, the party may request a separate hearing on the permanency plan.

(b) Options for permanency are:

- (i) Reunification with the parent(s) or guardian(s) – There has been substantial compliance with the family preservation plan and it is anticipated that in the near future, the child will be returned to the custody of the parent(s) or guardian(s).
- (ii) Youth in Need of Care Guardianship – A guardian is appointed to assist the court to supervise the youth. The guardian is given responsibility for the care, custody, and supervision of the child, but NCFS continues to monitor the guardianship and the child's well-being, and provides regular updates to the Court on the guardianship. Relinquishment or rescission of the guardianship results in the re-opening of the underlying youth in need of care case.
- (iii) Long-term foster care placement – Guardianship is not an option or is not in the child's best interest, and reunification of the family is not anticipated in the near future.
- (iv) Termination of Parental Rights and Adoption – One or more of the following conditions exists and NCFS has recommended termination:
 - (A) Abandonment of the child;
 - (B) Willful and repeated physical injuries which cause or create a substantial risk of death, disfigurement or impairment of bodily functions;
 - (C) Willful and repeated psychological or emotional abuse which cause or create a substantial risk of severe psychological or emotional damage to the child, including, but not limited to, failure to thrive or attachment disorder;
 - (D) Willful and repeated acts of sexual abuse; or,
 - (E) Voluntary termination of parental rights.

(c) Permanency shall be established via one of the foregoing options no later than 24 months after the dependency was opened. This timeframe may be extended if the parents are in full compliance with the Family Preservation Plan, if more time is needed to find a suitable guardian, or if the Court finds that extending the permanency timeline is in the child's best interest.

- (d) A child placed out of home shall not be reunified with the parent(s) or guardian(s) unless the court has ordered an immediate return of custody or a trial return home has occurred. When a trial return home is ordered, the NCFS caseworker shall:
- (i) Fully assess any new adults in the home and determine whether they need services to address the safety of the child, regardless of whether they are a party to the dependency.
 - (ii) Monitor the children’s safety, permanency, and well-being.
 - (iii) Set out clear requirements and a timeline for the parents to regain custody of their children.
 - (iv) Recommend dismissal of the dependency when the parents or guardians have completed all requirements and demonstrated the ability to safely resume parenting and have custody of their children. A trial return home shall last for a minimum of six months prior to dismissal, unless the Court finds it is in the children’s best interest to dismiss the case sooner.
 - (v) Notify the Court if a parent(s) or guardian(s) is not meeting the requirements of the trial return home or has not demonstrated the ability to safely resume parenting and have custody of the children.

50.18 SAFETY PLAN

A written safety plan may be developed by NCFS at any time to control or manage threats to a child’s safety. A safety plan may be made in addition to a voluntary services agreement or may be implemented at any time over the course of a youth in need of care case.

Safety plans will be developed with participants that are suitable, reliable, and can assist in keeping the child safe. The plan will include activities and tasks for participants that control safety threats to the child, and should use the family’s suitable, formal and informal supports to manage the safety threats. The plan should include details for monitoring the safety plan and must be signed by all parties.

50.19 FAMILY VOLUNTARY SERVICES

50.19.01 Purpose

NCFS may offer a family the option to engage in voluntary services in lieu of court intervention. The purpose of voluntary services is to encourage positive collaboration and participation from the family in order to address parental deficiencies or safety concerns. The goal is to avoid court intervention when all parties agree on a course of action and voluntary services are sufficient to keep the children safe.

50.19.02 Voluntary Services Agreement

Family Voluntary Services shall be formalized in a written voluntary services agreement signed by all parties. This intervention is available when there is a low to moderate risk of harm, imminent danger, or subsequent abuse to the child(ren), and all parties agree to a voluntary services agreement.

50.19.03 Voluntary Placement Agreement

NCFS may use a voluntary placement agreement when a safety threat exists that cannot be managed in the home solely with a voluntary services agreement and/or safety plan. This intervention is appropriate when services provided during a 90-day calendar period are likely to eliminate the need for court intervention. A voluntary placement agreement must be accompanied by a family voluntary services agreement, must be signed by all parties, and may not exceed 90 calendar days in duration. If a parent terminates a voluntary placement agreement, NCFS must immediately assess the child's safety and determine whether or not the child can safely return home. If the child may safely return home, the child must be returned to the parents or legal guardians within one calendar day, excluding weekends and holidays. If the child may not safely return home, NCFS must immediately either contact law enforcement to request placement of the child into protective custody, or file a youth in need of care petition and request a pick-up order within one calendar day, excluding weekends and holidays. If a child is placed out of home pursuant to a voluntary placement agreement under this section, the child may not remain out of home for more than 90 days unless a court action is commenced or all parties agree to another 90 days in writing.

50.19.04 Termination of Voluntary Services

It is within NCFS's sole discretion to offer a family voluntary services based on NCFS's determination of what is in the child's best interest. A voluntary services plan or placement agreement under this section may be terminated at any time by the parent or guardian. If a family does not agree to any of the voluntary interventions described in this section, does not comply with the terms of an agreement, or circumstances change that warrant further investigation or action, NCFS may proceed with further investigation or court action.

- (i) The Court has jurisdiction over the parties and the subject matter of the agreement;
 - (ii) All necessary parties have actual knowledge of the proposed order and have agreed to it;
 - (iii) The order contains the complete agreement of the parties and contains enough information regarding the full agreement so a dispute as to the order is not likely to arise in the future; and,
 - (iv) The order is otherwise proper and enforceable.
- (b) Any agreement in which a parent or guardian voluntarily consents to place his or her child in foster care must be signed before a judge or judicial officer of the Court. The judge or judicial officer shall first question the parent or guardian to determine that he or she understands the terms of the agreement and consequences of the consent.
- (c) No order may be entered which terminates parental rights unless the requirements of Chapter 50.23 of this Title have been met.
- (d) An order of the Court upon a Peacemaker Conference agreement may be enforced as any other order of the Court.

50.21 CUSTODY DECLARATIONS

50.21.01 Purpose

The purpose of this section is to provide a procedure for a parent to obtain a court order declaring that he or she has custody of his or her child. It affirms the existing rights of the parent to custody and protects those rights against other parental claims which have not been established. A declaration under this chapter does not terminate rights a putative father may have.

50.21.02 Petition for Custody - How to File

Any parent of a child may seek an order granting custody of the child by filing a petition with the Court. If the parent is seeking a declaration of custody for more than one child, a separate petition should be filed for each child.

A declaration of custody shall remain in effect until:

- (a) The child reaches eighteen (18) years of age;

- (b) The child marries or becomes otherwise emancipated prior to age eighteen; or,
- (c) The Nisqually Court orders a modification of the declaration of custody order.

50.22 GUARDIANSHIPS

50.22.01 Purpose

The purpose of this chapter is to provide a mechanism for the appointment of a guardian for a child to ensure that the child has an adult legally responsible for the child, and that the adult has the necessary legal rights to ensure the child receives proper care. An appointment of a guardian does not terminate parental rights and therefore, a guardian may not consent to an adoption of the child. This section shall apply to both private and youth in need of care guardianships, except as specifically indicated.

In determining whether the proposed guardianship would be in the best interest of the child, the Court shall consider the placement preferences established in Section 50.10.09.

50.22.08 Guardianship Order

- (a) The Court shall enter an order appointing a guardian pursuant to the petition if it finds by clear and convincing evidence that (1) either the current parent(s) or guardian(s) of the child have consented to the proposed guardianship or that the child will suffer harm if the guardianship is not ordered, and (2) that the proposed guardianship would be in the best interest of the child.

50.22.09 Review Hearings

The Court shall schedule a review hearing to be held within six (6) months of the guardianship order to determine whether the guardianship remains in the best interest of the child. The Court may schedule periodic review hearings thereafter as it deems necessary to stay informed of the child's situation.

The Court will hold annual review hearings thereafter, unless it is determined by the Court that more or less frequent review hearings are necessary. Nisqually Children and Family Services shall continue to monitor the child's well-being and shall remain a party to the case. Prior to each review hearing, NCFS shall provide a guardianship review report to the Court and serve the report on all parties to the case at least five (5) days prior to the review hearing. The report shall provide a thorough update to the Court on the child's welfare and provide a recommendation as to whether the guardianship should continue.
- (g) A Youth in Need of Care Guardianship shall end when the child turns age 18 or when the Court rescinds the guardianship, whichever occurs sooner. When a

Youth in Need of Care Guardianship is rescinded, the underlying Youth in Need of Care matter shall be reopened in accordance with Section 50.22.11.

50.22.11 Termination of Guardianship

- (a) The Court may terminate any guardianship if the Court finds by clear and convincing evidence that there has been a substantial change in circumstances and the guardianship is no longer in the child’s best interest. When determined appropriate by the Court, the guardian or other family members will be referred to NCFS for resources and services that may be helpful to assist in maintaining the family unit.

- (b) A parent petitioning the Court for termination of a guardianship and return of custody bears the burden of establishing by clear and convincing evidence that (1) he or she has rectified the parental deficiencies present in the underlying Youth in Need of Care case or there has otherwise been a substantial change in circumstances; and (2) that the guardianship is no longer in the child’s best interest. - (d) When a Youth in Need of Care guardianship is rescinded and custody is not returned to a parent, the underlying Youth in Need of Care case shall be reopened. NCFS shall provide all necessary services, shall be responsible for placement of the child, and shall provide a report to the court which includes the proposed permanency plan for the child and an updated family preservation plan.

- (c) Consent given before or within thirty (30) days after the birth of a child is not valid.
- (d) The Court shall not allow a parent to voluntarily terminate their parental rights unless the Court determines that it is in the best interest of the child to do so.

Historical and Statutory Notes

Section 50.25 added by Tribal Council Resolution 71-2023, dated June 8, 2023.

50.26 PATERNITY

50.26.01 Purpose

The purpose of this section is to ensure that the father of each Nisqually child or child residing on the Nisqually Reservation is identified and paternity established in order to protect the best interest of all children regarding such matters as enrollment, customs and traditions of the tribe, survivorship and inheritance, health, support, and social security benefits. Indian children are the most vital and valued resource to the continued existence, the future, and integrity of the Nisqually Tribe. The Tribe has a compelling interest in promoting and maintaining the health and well-being of all Nisqually children.

50.26.02 Jurisdiction

The Court shall have jurisdiction over any action to determine paternity under this Title.

50.26.03 Presumption of Paternity

A man is presumed to be the natural father of a child if (a) he and the natural mother were married to each other at the time of the child's birth or if the child was born within three hundred (300) days after the marriage was terminated; (b) with the man's consent, he is named as the child's father on the child's birth certificate; or (c) a genetic test shows a statistical probability of at least 99.9% that the alleged father is the biological father.

The presumption may be overcome by a court decree based on clear and convincing evidence.

50.26.04 General Provisions

- (a) An unwed father is not entitled to treatment as a parent under this Title unless his name appears on the child's birth certificate or his paternity is established under this Section.
- (b) The procedures for establishment of paternity under this Chapter may be used even if an alleged father, or the mother, is dead or otherwise unavailable.
- (c) The provisions of this Chapter may be applied to determinations of maternity.
- (d) An action to establish paternity under this section is not barred by any agreement between an alleged or presumed father and the mother of the child.
- (e) No statute of limitations applies to an action to establish paternity.

The parties may submit an agreed order establishing the paternity of a child. Before deciding whether to approve the agreed order, the judge shall discuss the agreed order with each party and shall: (a) Explain the proposed agreed order in detail and the consequences of the order and of the person's failure to comply with agreed terms; (b) assure that the person's consent to the proposed agreed order is not the result of coercion, threat, duress, fraud, over-reaching, or improper promise on the part of any person; (c) explain the person's right to a spokesperson at their own expense; (d) explain the burden of proof as to each issue; and (e) explain that once the person agrees to the proposed order and it is signed and entered by the Court, it will be too late for the person to change his or her mind. If the Court finds that any consent was not truly voluntary, the agreed order shall not be entered and the case shall proceed to a hearing.

(1) Generally. A paternity proceeding under this article may stand alone as a separate proceeding or it may be joined with an action for divorce, dissolution, annulment, declaration of invalidity, separate maintenance, child-parent relationship, support, or any other civil action in which paternity is an issue including youth in need of care proceedings.

(2) Who May File Petition. A petition to request the Court to establish paternity may be filed by:

- (a) An adult child or a child's legal guardian;
- (b) The child's natural mother;
- (c) An alleged father of the child; or
- (d) Any Tribal department or program with an interest in determining parentage.

(3) Contents of Petition. A petition to establish paternity, prepared on a form approved by the Court, shall state:

- (a) The names, ages, addresses, and tribal affiliations, if any, of the natural mother, the alleged father(s), the child, all others who have legal rights of custody, visitation, or support of the child, and of the petitioner;
- (b) Whether the natural mother and the alleged father are or were married, and the dates of marriage, separation, and divorce, if any;
- (c) Whether the natural mother and alleged father agree that the alleged father is the natural father of the child; and
- (d) Whether there are other Court or administrative paternity proceedings or State paternity affidavits concerning the child or whether parental rights have been terminated.

A certified copy of the child's birth certificate shall be attached to the petition or provided to the Court at least 10 days before the first hearing.

(4) Service and Summons. Upon receipt of the petition for guardianship, the Court shall set a date for a paternity hearing which shall not be more than forty (40) days after the Court receives the petition. All parties, including the child if over 18 years of age, the biological mother, and the man alleged in the petition to be the natural father, shall be served with the petition and a summons in accordance with Section 50.10.01, above. The summons shall notify the party that the party must respond to the summons and petition by filing an answer with the Court and serving it on all parties. The summons shall further notify the party that, if the written response is not filed with the Court within 21 days after receipt of the summons and petition, the Court may, without that party's response, enter a judgment of paternity by default only if it has admitted evidence of genetic testing statistically proving that the man alleged in the petition is the biological father.

50.26.07 Paternity Hearing

The following rules shall apply to paternity hearings:

- (1) Only those persons the Court finds to have a legitimate interest in the proceedings may attend hearings under this article. Nisqually Children and Family Services staff may be present at paternity hearings.
- (2) The mother of the child and the alleged father may be compelled to testify or to provide DNA samples at the paternity hearing.
- (3) Testimony of a health care provider concerning the medical circumstances of the pregnancy and the condition and characteristics of the child upon birth is not privileged for purposes of admitting this evidence.
- (4) The parties shall provide testimony on how the costs of paternity testing shall be paid and the Court will make a determination based on this testimony. If the testing was paid by the Nisqually Tribe, the Tribe may waive all or part of the costs or request reimbursement.
- (5) The Court may enter a judgment of paternity by default only if it has admitted evidence of genetic testing statistically proving that the man alleged in the petition to be the natural father is the biological father.

50.26.08 Evidence Relating to Paternity

Genetic tests are the preferred method of establishing paternity. Evidence relating to paternity may include:

- (1) Genetic test results, weighted in accordance with evidence of the statistical probability of the alleged father's paternity;
- (2) Evidence of sexual intercourse between the mother and alleged father at any possible time of conception;
- (3) An expert's opinion concerning the statistical probability of the alleged father's paternity based upon the duration of the mother's pregnancy;
- (4) Medical or anthropological evidence relating to the alleged father's paternity of the child based on tests performed by experts. If a man has been identified as a possible father of the child, the Court may, and upon request of a party shall, require the child, the mother, and the man to submit to appropriate tests; and
- (5) Any other evidence relevant to the issue of paternity of the child.

50.26.09 Genetic Testing

In all paternity proceedings, the Court shall require the child, mother, and alleged father(s) to submit to genetic tests, unless good cause exists not to require such testing.

The following requirements apply to genetic testing under this section:

- (1) Lab Accredited. The tests shall be performed by an accredited paternity genetic testing lab that performs legally and medically acceptable tests, approved by the Tribe or the Court.
- (2) Admission into Evidence. Unless a party objects to the results of genetic tests in writing at least five days before the hearing, the tests shall be admitted as evidence of paternity without the need for foundation testimony or other proof of authenticity.
- (3) Affidavit of Genetic Expert. The results of genetic tests must be accompanied by an affidavit from the expert describing the expert's qualifications and analyzing and interpreting the results as well as documentation of the chain of custody of the genetic samples.
- (4) Contempt of Court. Failure to submit to genetic tests when required by the Court may constitute contempt of Court.

50.26.10 Paternity Order

The judgment or order of the Court determining whether or not a respondent is a parent of a child shall be based on a preponderance of the evidence. If the judgment or order of the Court establishes a different father than that on the child's birth certificate, the Court shall send the order to the Department of Vital Statistics of the state in which the child was born.

50.26.11 Disestablishment of Presumed Paternity

A man presumed to be a child's father under Section 50.26.03 above, may bring an action for the purpose of declaring the nonexistence of the father and child relationship only if the action is brought within a reasonable time after obtaining knowledge of relevant facts. After the presumption has been rebutted, paternity of the child by another man may be determined in the same action, if he has been made a party. Any other interested party may bring an action at any time for the purpose of declaring the existence or nonexistence of the father and child relationship. Regardless of its terms, no agreement between an alleged or presumed father and the mother or child shall bar an action under this section. If an action under this section is brought before the birth of the child, all proceedings may be stayed until after the birth, except service of process and discovery, including the taking of depositions.

If the Court finds there is a reasonable basis to question paternity, or upon agreement of the parties, it may order genetic testing.

As a matter of policy, the Nisqually Tribe discourages the disestablishment of paternity that has earlier been established under operation of law. The Court shall require the party seeking to disestablish paternity to establish by clear and convincing evidence that the presumed parent is not a genetic parent and that it is in the best interest of the child to disestablish paternity.

Best interest factors to be considered by the Court shall include: (a) The age of the child; (b) The length of time during which each individual assumed the role of parent of the child; (c) The nature of the relationship between the child and each individual; (d) The harm to the child if the relationship between the child and each individual is not recognized; (e) The basis for each individual's claim to parentage of the child; (f) Whether there is another presumed parent; and (g) Other equitable factors arising from the disruption of the relationship between the child and each individual or the likelihood of other harm to the child.

50.26.12 Paternity Records

The records filed in a paternity action shall be confidential. Only parties to the case may obtain copies.

For the purposes of this Title a person is guilty of “custodial interference” if that person, with intent to deny access to a child by a parent, guardian, institution, agency, or other person having a lawful right to physical custody of such child, the person takes, entices, retains, detains, or conceals the child from the parent, guardian, institution, agency, or other person having a lawful right to physical custody of such child.

50.29.02 Custodial Interference - Defense

- (a) It is a complete defense to a charge of custodial interference, if established by the defendant by a preponderance of the evidence, that:

This Title is also meant to provide penalties for parents, guardians, or custodians who fail to provide proper supervision and guidance to the youth during the rehabilitation process.

CHAPTER III - DECISION MAKING AUTHORITY FOR TRIBAL ISSUES

50.43.01 Purpose

The purpose of this chapter is to provide a procedure for a parent or guardian to obtain a court order declaring that he or she has the authority to make decisions relating to the tribal issues of enrollment, relinquishment of enrollment, and/or distribution of per capita payments for a Nisqually minor.

Such an order may be obtained regardless of whether there is a prior court order establishing legal custody or guardianship of the minor.

This code is intended to establish decision making authority as it exists between parents and guardians. It is not intended to alter or diminish the Nisqually Tribe's authority to adopt rules and procedures related to enrollment, disenrollment and per capita distribution.

HISTORICAL AND STATUTORY NOTES

This chapter enacted by Tribal Council Resolution 125-2010, dated December 21, 2010.

50.43.02 Petition for Decision Making Authority - How to File

Any parent or guardian of a Nisqually minor may seek an order granting him or her authority to make enrollment and per capita distribution decisions for the minor by filing a petition with the Court. If petitioner is seeking decision making authority for more than one minor, a separate petition should be filed for each minor.

50.43.03 Petition for Decision Making Authority - Contents

The petition shall be a true and correct statement signed and sworn by the petitioner and shall include:

- (c) The name, address, and tribal status of the minor's other natural parent, if such information is known;
- (d) A statement as to whether any paternity proceedings or other custody or guardianship proceedings are currently taking place in regard to the minor;
- (e) A statement as to whether there is a prior court order establishing legal custody or guardianship over the minor;
- (f) A statement as to why it is in the best interest of the minor for the petitioner to be granted the authority to make decisions regarding enrollment and per capita distribution for the minor;

50.43.06 Preferences

In determining whether a parent or guardian should be given authority to make enrollment and per capita distribution decisions, the court shall be guided by the following principles:

- (a) A parent or guardian who has received a previous order granting him or her legal custody or guardianship over the tribal member child shall be presumed to be the person who should be making the decisions.
- (b) If neither of the child's parents has a court order awarding custody and there is no person with legal guardianship over the minor, the court shall take the following into consideration, but shall ultimately be guided by what is in the best interest of the child:

 - (ii) How long the child has been in a particular parent or guardian's custody;
 - (iii) The tribal status of each parent or guardian;
 - (iv) Whether an individual's previous decisions regarding tribal issues have been in the best interest of the child;
 - (v) Whether the parent or guardian's intentions for future decisions are in the best interest of the child.
- (c) If the minor child is 16 years of age or older, the court may take the opinions of the minor into consideration when making its decision.

50.43.07 Order Granting Decision Making Authority for Tribal Issues

- (a) The Court shall enter a written order declaring that the petitioner has the authority to make enrollment and per capita distribution decisions for a Nisqually minor if it determines that it is in the best interest of the child to do so.

- (b) It shall be the responsibility of the parent receiving the order to provide a copy of the order to the Tribal Chairman, the tribe's Chief Financial Officer and the Enrollment Department.

50.43.08 Effective Date of Order

An order granting decision making authority shall become effective sixty (60) days after it is signed by the tribal court judge.
